

Abstract of the Disclosure

An image registration method and apparatus for automatically registering images of different perspectives, 5 and where a sensor image is registered with a more precise reference image such that the geocoding of the reference image can be transferred to the sensor image.